

INEQUALITIES IN A CONTEXT OF GLOBAL RECESSION: PERCEPTIONS, FRAMING AND POLITICIZATION

26-28 May 2011

Sciences Po
Room François Goguel
56, rue des Saints Pères (5th floor)
75007 Paris

Thursday, May 26

2.30 pm: Opening

Marie Duru-Bellat (Sciences Po/OSC), Nonna Mayer (Sciences Po/CEE, CNRS), Laurence Tubiana (Sciences Po/IDDRI)

“Inequalities in a Context of Global Recession”

3-5.30 pm: Session 1. Political Economy of Inequalities

Alice J. Wuermler (Children and Youth Unit, Human Development Network, World Bank),
“The (Re)production of (In)equality: Poverty, Social Policy, and Human Development from Conception to Adulthood”

Bruno Palier (Sciences Po/CEE, CNRS)

“The Age of Dualization: How Labour Market and Social Policies Create Inequalities in European Societies”

Joshua Guetzkow (Hebrew University of Jerusalem)

“Poverty And Crime in the American Congressional Discourse: How Welfare and Criminal Justice Policies can Feed Inequalities”

Discussant: Nicolas Sauger (Sciences Po/CEE)

Friday, May 27

9.30-12.30am: Session 2. Compared Perceptions of Inequalities and Justice

Camille Bedock (IUE, Sciences Po/CEE), Marie Duru-Bellat (Sciences Po/OSC), Elise Tenret (Sciences Po/OSC)

“Compared Perceptions of Justice in a Globalized World”

Frédéric Gonthier (IEP Grenoble)

“Explaining the Changing Attitudes of Europeans towards Economic Liberalism and Inequalities”

Leslie McCall (Northwestern University)

“Americans' Beliefs about Income Inequality, Economic Opportunity and Redistribution, in a Context of Rising Inequality”

Discussant: Alain Chenu (Sciences Po/OSC)

12.30 -2.30 pm: Lunch Break

2.30-5.30 pm: Session 3. Reactions to Inequalities in the South: Case Studies

Laurence Louër (Sciences Po/CERI)

“The Reciprocal Politicization of Socioeconomic and Religious Inequalities in Bahrein”

Marcelo de Almeida Medeiros (Federal University of Pernambuco)

“Why are Strong Inequalities Accepted in Brazil?”

Moustapha Sene (University of Rennes 1)

“Hunger Riots and Social Anger in Senegal”

Discussant: Elise Huillery (Sciences Po/Department of Economics)

Saturday, May 28

9.30-12.30 am: Session 4. The subjective Experience and Reactions to Poverty and Inequality

Nissim Mizrahi (Tel Aviv University), Hanna Herzog (Tel Aviv University), Joshua Guetzkow (Hebrew University of Jerusalem)

“Participatory Destigmatisation Strategies among Palestinian Citizens of Israël, Ethiopian Jews and Mizrahi Jews”

Michèle Lamont (Harvard University), Crystal Fleming (Harvard University), Jessica Welburn (Harvard University)

“Responses to Discrimination and Social Resiliences under Neoliberalism (Brazil, Israël, US)”

Jennifer M. Silva (Harvard University)

“American Working Class Selfhood in an Age of Economic Uncertainty: and Neoliberal Ideology (the Contrasted Effects of Race, Class and Gender)”

Graziella Moraes da Silva (Federal University of Rio de Janeiro), Elisa Reis (Federal University of Rio de Janeiro)

“Perceptions of Racial and Class Inequalities among Brazilian Blacks”

Discussant: Daniel Sabbagh (Sciences Po/CERI)

12.30-1.00 pm: Wrapping up Intervention

Marie Duru-Bellat (Sciences Po/OSC), Nonna Mayer (Sciences Po/CEE, CNRS), Laurence Tubiana (Sciences Po/IDDRI)

Pas de réservation
Entrée libre dans la limite des places disponibles

Contact : lucie.beraudsudreau@sciences-po.org